I'm a Graphic Designer. I graduated from Bezalel Academy's Photography department with Erasmus studies in the VC department at HAW in Hamburg. As such, I taught myself a lot about graphic design by asking people, taking online courses, and learning from friends. Emphasizing the vast world I had to navigate in and how self-taught, hard-working, and motivated I am.

Including freelance design on the side, I offer lots of different design services. I work for Ha'aretz newspaper, where I've been part of "The Studio" for over three years. At Ha'aretz, I work with a team of designers, and we handle all the designs for the app, website, and everything else at the newspaper, including the Hebrew and English editions.
